wonder if you all can understand where i am at
I think I know how you feel.  My mind was full of fantasies and images all day and night.  The first step, which I think you just did, is admit that you are powerless over lust an addict.  You will then be ready to surrender, truly surrender your lust to Hashem, moment by moment.  It's murder in the beginning. Take it one nisayon at a time and stubbornly refuse to do anything but give it up to Hashem.

Just keep at it. Believe you are making progressive progress.
I do- it's the only thing keeping me going.
