GYE technical help Posted by shivisi - 07 Mar 2014 02:46
I am having a technical problem with the chat feature on this site.
Last the "Who's online" list, but when Lalick on one of the names on

I get the "Who's online" list, but when I click on one of the names on the list (green/available) the name appears next to the list but the chatbox does not open does not open so I can't chat.

Pleeease do not tell me that I might be better off not chatting, (yes I know that all that happens is for the good but), I need the chatting and it has done alot for me until now especially by keeping me off other chat sites, as a big part of my addiction was chat related.

If any one can suggest what might be causing this malfunction, and how I can fix it, It would be greatly appreciated.

greatly appreciated.
Thank you.

Been there, done that.
Check the zoom level on your browser window Just zoom in a little more.	. If it is less than 100%, that could be causing it.

'fishel bug report submitted.
Nice catch on the zoom issue. It seems to be a problem in Chrome and Firefox but not in I	E.
