

My Struggle

Posted by climbing - 09 May 2014 19:52

Hi Everyone,

I am a normal frum yungerman.

I am married with 2 children for 4 years.

I was doing well for a while (i once did around 150 days clean), but lately I am doing terrible.

I tried to put k9 on my pc but it does not work as according to the techie from tag I have to weak connection to the wifi I use (2-3 bars)

I cannot afford to pay money for a service and I cannot live without internet.

My wife needs it for work and I also do.

I would love to tell my wife the truth as that would help a lot as she would help a lot. However , she is the type that if she would find out it would make her very insecure and she would lose all trust in me.

Even pushing for filters to much is not good as she will start suspecting me.

i put my son to sleep i the room with the pc as I would not dare do it in front of him, But then I went to the phone.

I am lost and so not want to do.

Basically I would like to fix k9 or find another free one that works.

Isn't there other free ones that work?

Have you spoken to the techies at Venishmartem or TAG? If your WiFi is strong enough for "falling" it should be strong enough for K9 too.

Why does it have to be free? Come on, what's the real reason?

Or to put it another way, how long are you prepared to continue to put yourself (and your family) in peril while you figure out how to save $20 a year?

But yeah, if TAG can advise you on how to do it for free then do that. Just don't sit on your tuchas waiting for someone to program the best filter ever and then give it to you for free.
