

I did not dissappear.

Posted by R76 - 18 May 2014 07:24

I am rarely on the forums -- I am more into the partner program. I have one partner -- can I have more then one?

Do not ask me how I am keeping up.
Forum takes forever while telephone is quick.

Welcome back

I won't ask.

I've had more than one partner for many years....now...only one...thankfully.

Thanks. How can I find more phone partners? I sent 9 requests, found one partner.

Partner programme here is pretty useless if you ask me. Most people on it maybe signed up months or years ago and haven't bothered with it since. The best way to find people is by talking on the GYE chat. Have had a lot more sucess there then the partner programme.

I agree.

That is correct -- so far I have found just one partner. And I talk to him rarely. I will call him tomorrow.

I am a 37 year old man in North America. I am not married. I am looking for partners in North America in similar age category.

But still Internet forums can not replace real contact

-- they are very slow

-- everything we say is the eternal property of the whole world

Too bad I was not embarrassed to sin against G-d.
