

Just joined

Posted by Cheshbon Tzedek - 26 Aug 2014 22:30

Maybe I'll write about my struggles and successes when I become more comfortable here.

For now I'll just introduce myself.

As my screen name goes, I'm making a Cheshbon Tzedek of my thoughts, speech and actions.
It's Rosh Chodesh Elul and time for Teshuvah!

Welcome!

Do you have a plan how you intend to do Teshuvah? If so, please share!

If not, let us know a little more and I'm sure you will get some great ideas.

WELCOME! Opening up and sharing here is one of the best things I ever did. You are among friends who understand you. Nothing you can say will shock us. There are many here that have done worse things and are in recovery today. Jump in. Don't be shy.

fellow in the chat thingy really truly shocked me.

I was shocked at the extent of the addiction; still tried helpin' him.

Actually have been thinkin' about writin' a post regardin' the extent that addiction can take us.
