Welcome!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Could your issues with depression stem from you being too hard on yourself, having unrealistic expectations and not letting yourself progress slowly? Cause thats the way it is for me!

"also" makes it sounds like they are two unrelated issues.

They may be more closely connected than you realize.

Welcome!!

It took me a while to realize that even with this "problem" I am still tovmeod, I am a good man, I am not evil or bad, I am just more or less sick!

Don't be a stranger, tell us more about your struggles, what you've tried, and what your plan is for the future based on what didn't work!!

and certainly Keep On Trucking!!

WELCOME! When you say "issues with depression", do you mean that you have been diagnosed with depression, or that is the way you feel? Have you gotten proffesional help?

Stick around. There's lots of good stuff to learn here, and a fair amount of goofing off as well. You may want to check out "the depressed persons chill spot".

Welcome to GYE!

Can you be a bit more detailed about what you're going through?
