Hello,

I am a fan of this website. But I have to say, what is the point of tackling an addiction if in order to try to figure out how to navigate the website, there is a loss from all the confusion? Is there an option for making the site more simplified for the not so savvy web surfers?

BTW: Just for my update, my lust for beef jerkey, burgers, and whisky has come to an end. I need to replace this with something else. Fortunately I can still smoke a cigarett from time to time.

Herren Gut Voch. I also think some small changes would be beneficial. What issues were you having with navigation? What would you like simplified?
