Hi!

Welcome to GYE!

You can start by reading the GYE Handbook.

You can download it here: handbook

Also, post a little bit about your situation here, so people can start relating and helping.

Just keep out info that might put your anonymity at risk.

Good luck!

Welcome to GYE. You may want to share your story so people here can point you in the right direction. Don't be ashamed to share your struggles - you joined a wonderful chevra of non judgemental people who can all relate to your struggle from their own experiences.

A good place to start is reading the GYE Handbook and participating in the forum discussions.

I'm hoping we can get to know you better (anonymously of course).

Hatzlacha!

Thnx for the support!!!

My story goes as follows.

I've been watching porn and masturbating for at least 6 and a half years I've tried to break out of it on my own at least a dozen times but kept on falling in to the cycle again and again

It got to a point that my social life is getting ruined. I'm taken over by feelings of guilt

That's why I decided to come here and hopefully start climbing out of the mess I'm in!!

What did you do by yourself to try to stop? What are some examples of things that didn't work?

What I mean when I write "on my own" it means stopping out of guilt That I know I'm going against hashems will. Especially after I saw what some seforim write about masturbation.

and it was eating me up inside. But after a few days at most my temptation overcame me and I just did it

I feel for you. I have definitely been there. But I promise you that there's a light at the end of the tunnel.
