

Hello (again)

Posted by maoztzur - 25 Jul 2016 17:30

Hello all,

I first started on GYE in 2009, under a different name. Back then, I was single and could barely hold on to a few weeks of sobriety. Today, B"H, I am happily married and sober for over 3 years.

I live in a Jewishly isolated area, and find that I do not fully relate in the SA groups that I participate in. This is why I want to reconnect on GYE to my fellow Yidden. I plan on continuing with SA groups, but I also want to reach out to others who I can relate to better.

It's good to be back, and I look forward to sharing, listening, and getting to know everyone!!
