

It is time to stop. I have a feeling I'll succeed

Hi everybody,

I've fallen so many times just like many of you. Now I hope to change it for the better. I've taken some measures that I've never taken before and I'm following some guidelines of GYE. 90 days is my goal. That's all I need. Starting today.

Welcome!!

Many of us use the white book or other tools to deal with our feelings - just keep it in mind if the going gets tough and keep this most important link always within reach

Many people have acted out on day 91. Is 90 days the end? If not, perhaps trying to change what you can today might be a better course of action.

Welcome buddy!!

) and private
chats; it really helped me. Just to tlak openly about your habit (or addiction) and calling a spade a spade really gets you going.

Keep on posting; it's your life after all!

50 days!

Good for you.

Ending the year on a clean note, iyH.
