

need help

Posted by waited to long - 01 Nov 2016 21:48

i finally built up the courage to write this. i am struggling for about 20 years now. it all starting reading a magazine i shouldn't have and lead to an orgasm. and things took from there.

It wasn't always a daily struggle as at some points it was very hard for me to access magazines and movies. The fight got hard when my wife needed a computer for work and i understand technology a lot better than she does and got past anything that was put on the computer. just when i thought my then biggest problem was solved as we installed webchaver that computer broke . we got a new one but moved shortly thereafter and didn't have internet at home so didn't install it again. now i have a smartphone that my wife put restrictions on but i figured out how to bypass them. my wife a while back got the wifi password of a neighbor and although our computer has a filter its not a good one and its easy to bypass. the last few years i have my work computer to add to the picture. i am also in charge of dealing with IT stuff at work so i know all the filters that they have and how and their setup so i know where to get around them.

i know there are other options for all of my devices. however I believe pushing to get them will give away the problem. which will lead to people that wont be a help -rather the contrary- to find out.

I think for 99% guys who are around on GYE is a lot healthier that they do have the best filters on the market, if someone can do or is advised to be w/o it, kol hakoved, but it shouldn't be promoted here.

Hatzlocha to all sweet yiden here.

It's been a little quiet on the forum recently

Warning: Spoiler!

I think for 99% who are around on gye

They have tried all the filters, or don't need a computer to act out with

So what should be promoted here?

To do what it takes to live life to its fullest.

I must point out that your 99% and my 99% are off

Your gye forum clientele may be closer to 50%.

Many guys here don't have filter and are sober. Me 2, although I have reporting software which I know how to get around. I have more to write... Not for now...

Gotta get on with life :-)

For now let's keep playing TAG

Over to you

You're IT

It's a known thing that 45.7363729272% of statistics are made up.

You need a filter bro

You're accessing the wrong stats online

New and Yid: Have you worked in the porn industry before? You seem to know all about the business side of things.

Oh PLEEEEEZ! I can't believe you, man!

Just for one example...

How often have you gotten an E-mail for toothpaste unexpectedly, "Hey, we're in the Ukraine and we really want you to have clean teeth! Just E-mail our customer service department TODAY!"

Now, how often have you gotten an E-mail, "Hi, I'm Genette (or whoever) in the Ukraine and I'd interested in a good time. Just E-mail me at..."

You don't need spam filters to block toothpaste ads.

Okay... I know you're going to disagree, so go ahead...

A belated welcome to GYE. We get where we are when Hashem wants us to get there. What's important is not how long it took us, but that we are here today.
