Hayom Yom 0

Hi everybody. My name is HayomYom. I hope to start counting my days, and making my days count.

(...yeh yeh, one day at a time...)

Obviously, I'm here cuz I suffer from lustaholism, and I want to get better.

Based on my analysis of my failings, I need to adhere to the following guidelines:

1. Avoid looking at forbidden/triggering images of any sort.
2. Avoid touching myself for pleasure anywhere close to the 'sensitive area'.
3. Avoid any form of dressing or undressing for lustful purposes.
4. Avoid lying on back or stomach (even partially).
5. Last but not least: Avoid unnecessary internet usage (hard to define, but the heart knows...).

Oh, and another very important guideline: Avoid triggering thoughts/fantasies (hard to quantify, but the mind knows...).

I hope to update regularly (if not daily, at least weekly).

GitShabis!!

Hayom yom 18 (??)

Lechayim, Lechayim, to LIFE!

If I were counting wheels,

Today would be

The day of the mighty TRUCK.

Hayom yom 20 (twenty)

Good and plenty

(To the fellow who swiped all of my hard-earned Karma: Sorry I do not live up to your standards. At first I was a bit irritated, and was tempted to sooth myself by acting out. But then I realized that I came here to count my days, not my Karma. Thank G-d, nobody (but myself) can swipe my hard-earned days. So I say, "Karma Shwarma - Keep on trucking!")

Hayom yom 21

21 = "???" "?? ? ?" "???" = "???"?

(= ODAAT = One Day At A Time)

For those who play kvitlech

(like on Chanukah),

21 is the WINNING NUMBER!

Hayom yom 23 ("??")

(To the tune of The Rabbi's Sons)

?? "??!" ?? "??!" "?????" "???"

This karma thing may be an increasing issue....

But it could also point to a forum addiction (culprit!)...

Keep on trucking, but don't rely too much on the karma highway....

BTW, you say:

Life is like an Onion,

You peel of One layer at a time,

And sometimes you Weep.

Well, my life is more like a bunion,

You can't peel it away - it's there to stay,

And sometimes it's painful.
