

Hashem might send my salvation here
Posted by ahavayirah - 06 Dec 2016 15:47

I am sure this will sound common but it's still a very unique struggle.

I have everything a person can need. Family, parnassah, health, and even many good ruchnius things.

But from the other side I have an extreme struggle with things related to lust, and internet is not the problem. I only work with filtered computers, and I even have a web chaver on my main computers.

The reason I am coming here now is that I have now a major nisayon in an inyan of kedusha and I can either fall very badly or grow tremendously if I overcome and build further to become a person that acts the way hashem wants.

If you read this message and can offer support - I will owe you my life!

I'm afraid hope will not help you here. MAKE GEDARIM and MAKE THEM FAST. Even if it is VERY uncomfortable. GEDARIM are there for a reason. If you don't put a wedge between the 2 of you somehow, this will not end pretty. DO NOT take this lightly. You MUST TAKE action BEFORE you end up in a compromising situation. DO NOT WAIT. Do not think, ponder, hope... JUST ACT.

DON'T KNOW what to tell you specifically, since I don't know the exact situation. BUT PLEEEEEASE, for your sake, your wife? children? People loose everything dear to them.

DON'T BE ONE OF THEM.

Please report back and let us know how it's going.

I wish you all the best.

WOW! now that was a powerful message.

Thank you gibbor120 - I think I will change my name to gibbor121

Please don't. You are you.

Don't change your name. Change your actions. Then write about it here, and let us know how

Ahavayirah it is commendable that you came here do not delay though! I can't agree more with gibbor you must first make a geder put a sword between you and that woman do it now! Then you can start thinking about underlying things and stuff like that- do whatever it takes because it will take you for a ride all the way to hell. You have everything going for you and we are cheering for you make the right move

I got some wake-up inspiration when I got an email to this site milkasfund.org/campaigns/

When I see the troubles people are going thru in life, it helps set my mind to the right priorities...

Wake-ups and inspiration are great but if you don't turn it into action it'll evaporate sooner or later. Ask God to help you do the next right thing and do it now now now!

Hi all...

Baruch Hashem, my life turned around completely by an unexpected turn of events. The exact details are not important, but I can say that the issue is completely resolved and I am a new person. My prayer & blessing is, that it should keep up and we should all be able to serve Hashem properly.
