

Guard without compromise

Posted by Roseatcards - 02 Apr 2017 23:23

---

Hi,

I'm in the business of sourcing product for importing and I'm relying on a strong search and also quality images to show the product high res. For this reason I'm not going towards a white list, and I'm also not easy with a live filter software where it will diminish the images quality. However I'm convinced that I have to have a guard towards the free web, I would be interested to hear options that will still leave me with a free search and good image quality. Is there such an option even out there? Thank you for whatever insight and advice you might have for me.

=====

Re: Guard without compromise

Posted by Markz - 02 Apr 2017 23:46

---

I'm in a similar scenario in my line of work

I try my best

Maybe an idea would be to outsource the image listings to a guy (local telemarketer) from India

=====

Re: Guard without compromise

Posted by Roseatcards - 03 Apr 2017 03:59

---

This is not something I would give out its part of my product research.

=====

Re: Guard without compromise

Posted by RaabosMachshovos - 03 Apr 2017 14:19

---

Hi, do you have your own office? can you have your monitors facing a public view?

Hatzlacha Rabbah

=====