That's pretty much what it comes to. And the question becomes can I control it or not and is it interfering with my life. Also is it a Torah issue for me or something more. For me even if Torah would permit it, I couldn't do it because it ruins my life.

How long have you been watching? What are your main triggers? Lonliness, boredom, anger... What can you do to avoid those triggers? What can you do to manage your life better so you don't need porn as an escape?

keep it up fighter! these guys/gals on porn they look happy ,but they feel so sick of themselves over what they did , and many what they were FORCED to do, that they take hard drugs to drown their embaessment,pretty sad people , they were once somebodies innocent child like yours ,they have parents who are crying over their disgusting lives,can we enjoy looking at people who are sick of what they are doing on the screen,please dont be fooled by their fake smiles ,i read somewhere that after the filming , they all fall onto the couches ,the men arent the least interested in the girls or the girls in the guys the minute the director says ,"ok, thats a take!" they all fall away in exhaustion!
