

Im Back

Posted by trymyrealbest - 26 Jul 2017 19:19

Hi my dear friends here!

I have alot of pain and in need to share here.

I was in SA for almost 2 years, i went through the 12 steps 2 times with great sponsors.

I was sober few month here and there, and my life was great.

I left SA over a year ago, since then i had few consecutive sober month just by connecting to my Rav, but lately i am falling a lot, with porn masturbation, and online chat.

I do feel that i miss working the steps, but i cannot agree to go back to SA for reasons i dont want to share in public.

I guess my question here is, my life isnt completely unmanageable, as sometimes i can go on for weeks without acting out, So what am i to do?

Is there a support group outside SA? A Group that gets together working the steps?

Respond here or PM me, i would love to get out of this hell, have no idea what to do

Welcome! Just because you can go weeks without acting doesn't mean that your life is not unmanageable.

Maybe you can join a phone conference? Sign up for GYE Live groups?

If you want to chat email me at dms1234ongye@gmail.com. It seems that SA was a good choice for you. Its unfortunate that you had a bad experience. But perhaps it was just one person or a specific meeting that gave you a bad experience not the whole organization? Just pointing it out.

Anyhow, Hatzlacha!

Thanks, I did not post the reason why SA wasnt for me, and i will not post it here.

The experience was great at almost every meeting and person i met

Wecome! It is a shame that you feel you cannot do the steps anymore since it seems to have helped you a lot.
