

Some stuff about me...

Posted by OivedElokim - 25 Feb 2018 04:06

Still a teenager. Going through a hard time. I've had an account on here for a few years, but haven't been so on top of my game. I've been falling a lot lately as an escape from various emotional issues that i am struggling to deal with. So i started spending a lot more time on here. I hope i will find what i'm looking for-relief from my lonely struggle with lust, and help for developing a healthier relationship with myself and others, and building a strong sense of self-worth that can withstand the lure of the rampant immorality that is so easily available to us...

Wishing you all a Gut Voch and much success in everything you do,

OivedElokim

Welcome! What can you do to step up your game? Make a plan of action. How can you deal with your emotional issues in a healthy way?

I keep falling using a relatives unfiltered device.

The simplest thing to do would to stop using it unless i'm around people.

But i keep deciding to do that and then disregarding that desicon b/c i "just need to check one thing etc..." and then it goes down from there...

Sounds like a surefire way to keep falling...

So what can you do to change that, to not end up in that situation?

Maybe make a contract that you wont use that device even for kosher purposes. Make it muktza, and create a small knas for using it for anything. If you stay away before being triggered, your "curiosity" wont be aroused to just "look a little further".....

No one but yourself. Or more specifically, your aversion to the consequences and desire to do are your relatives someone who you can confide in ,and tell them that its tempting to have access ,can they keep it not so accessible, put a code on it, theyll think youre a TZADIK! make sure you erase your history so they dont check what you used it for,be honest .are you married and your wife will get suspicious over such a request, maybe thatll be a different story and my idea is NOT good.

Doesn't work for everyone but reportedly "has freed many people from the obsession":

I cannot confide in my relatives.

I always use the browser that doesn't record my history.

I am not married yet, BH.

Of course the real answer is you. Having an accountability partner is helpful too as long as you stay in touch often.
