

Make it to Yeshiva

Posted by YeshivaGuy - 04 Aug 2020 05:33

Hi everyone,

First I want to say that I am humbled and honored to be in the presence of such Giborei Koach, true warriors of Hakadosh Baruch Hu.

I bh am not addicted to pornography.

I haven't been on a porn website.

But I'm getting close, and I'm here to gain chizuk not to fall into it.

Once I return to Yeshiva I'm safe, but as long as I'm home I'm in danger, and bh I haven't fallen into pornography. However it's the next step, chalila.

I bh am running a camp, so I started keeping busy, so bh have only been nichshal once in the last 3 weeks.

i want to just express my gratitude to all of you, and my great admiration for each and every one of you.

My Yetzer tries telling me "comon, porn can't be that bad, it's just the word that sounds scary" or like "it can't be so different than YouTube videos"

So I'm here to gain that chizuk.

thank you!

You've shown you can get to 88 days,

I'm confident you will get to 89.

Iyh the day will soon come that you will look back at your posts with amazement. It will be like someone who spent years underground and slowly climbed up and out to the fresh air and sunlight. During his climb he constantly wondered "Is there really a sun? Is there really fresh air to be had?" The only sobering thought as he rejoices upon his exit is "How many guys are still stuck down there?"

beyond belief.

i know i always told myself, and i always assumed everyone did, that the nisayon happened around 10 steps before what you describe. by the time im where you were, i tell myself "theres no bechira anymore".

to be stuck in that nightmare, and instead of just giving in so you can be done with it (we're not even talking about enjoyment at that point! its just like, LEAVE ME ALONE!!!) instead of that, your reaching out here!? and fighting like a tiger?! beyond belief.

you inspire me. thank you.

Do you realise your strength? Like notice how strong a nisayon you can overcome compared to what was 88 days ago. You have built yourself up like an impenetrable fortress. Withstanding tests that were absolutely impossible a couple of months ago.

Now, for that alone, it was surely worth the effort. Look back and congratulate yourself.

You are a hero. A well earned title!

Tonight is the night of Day 90.

B'ezras Hashem I'll be davening Kabolos Shabbos and maariv tonight.

Finally got the courage to accept to do it (it's a big Yeshiva so it's intimidating).

I hope to take the opportunity to sing Shiros vTishbachos of the Ribono Shel Olam b'Rabim, to thank him for my Hatzlocha thus far, as well as to daven that I may be Zoche to be a ??? for ????? ?????? in this world.

Thank you all for the chizuk and support.

I love you all.

Have a wonderful Shabbos!

Shabbos was great BH.

Davening went very well BH.

Needed internet tonight to research about college, wasn't careful enough, started slipping, watched holocaust dead bodies to calm down the taiva.

I should've used my friends computer to do the research.

Not proud of the slip.

I saw a little kissing for like 3 sec and left the page. The other time was just a guy and a girl flirting (it was way before anything explicit/kissing would happen. I left bh before that).

I ordered the new sim adapter online and bezras Hashem it's arriving this Tuesday.

I don't regard this as a fall since:

1. I Didn't see explicit material (I left the page before that happened)
- I'm defining explicit as 2 people on each other even with clothes.
2. I didn't touch my "ever"
3. It was for a very short period of time.

Nonetheless, my Yetzer did get "excited" from it (few secs of kissing and the flirting) and it may therefore be ??? an agreement I have with a tzadik here where I committed to have no "taiva stimulation" until day 100.

Nonetheless, the count on my profile here represents the amount of days I've gone without:

1. Touching my "ever" for hanaa

2. Masterbating

3. Watching explicit material for more than a few seconds

I remain proud of my achievements, and humbly accept and acknowledge my chesronos.

I am aware of the gedarim which must be put in place, and appreciate all of your love and support.

Note: I welcome and appreciate all eitzas, particularly if you feel like I'm not being honest with myself and need to better acknowledge my faults/falls.

I ask you though, please do it in a nice/sweet way, I can't always handle "sarcastic mussar" etc.

Thank You,

YeshivaGuy

Let's celebrate! What's on the menu for the party? Are we all invited? Milchig or fleishig? (It better be fleishig if you want @Grant to show up)

I noticed you are already getting down on yourself for that episode, forget about it, now is the time to party! It's a ploy of the Y"H to get you to beat yourself up when you are supposed to be enjoying the moment.

Keep it up!

Thanks so much

Ya you're right, about getting down on myself..

I plan b'ezras Hashem to get back to learning ?????? in ??? ???- ??? ??, it's big yesodos on viewing ???... I would try summarizing, but I can't, it's just so important.

It gives perspective on all yeridos, nisyonos etc in all avenues of Avodas HaShem... I have no words.

I highly recommend it to everyone.

Not sure what to do for a party, y'all are invited as long as @Grant does the grilling
