I just joined GYE a few minutes ago... I'm a very frum Jew in yeshiva and In a relationship with a very frum girl... never thought I would be posting about this but I'm here today struggling... I'm in the midst of a very meaningful and emtional relationship... can't learn as well nowadays... looking for anyone with similar challenges... can anyone relate?? About my relationship- it all happened accidentally... never thought talking to a girl for a few minutes can cause so many challenges...now It's been many months... we're both super frum and relate to each other extremely well... we share a lot a lot a lot of similarities... feels like I met my twin ... now trying not to meet in person... after meeting several times and falling with shomer negiah...can anyone relate to my situation?! Any comments ??? Please... I'm looking for I'm a very unique guy... very emotional.. and loves learning with all my heart... I'm a big learner and want to be good.... just struggling with an intense relationship... besides that sometimes very rare I do fall to porn... and to m"zl.... looking forward to hearing from you all!!!

Hey all! Hope everyones doing good! Wow! Day #2 I had my moments today lol! Honestly feels like such a long busy day can't even remember it anymore ... accomplished a lot Bh! Yeshiva helped me Aton to control the sadness Bh !!! This time around feels much easier Bh! The
! I miss her a lot !! WISHING I CAN ! Feels like someone is gone! But I keep reminding myself she's there I'm just taking a healthy step away... so for it being #2 today was- FANTASTIC!!! I hope for her it is the same!!! Thank you all!!!

How did Reb Akiva manage being away from his beloved for 12 years?

If you can be relaxed without taking to your girlfriend for 12 days, then cool.

If not, then it's quite clear it's not love that connects your dots. . .

She's an unhealthy crutch for some empty ness that you should daven for the ness that you find a way to fill the void with true avoidah so as to become a fully decent person and then also a quality husband. Or maybe with therapy?

Yeah it is more expensive than she is, but on the long run, yeah...

Maskim 100%

Though not sure if he's ready to hear this right now...

Firstly mr YeshivaGuy from Dunkin', I hope our friend mr Emotional is subscribed to YOUR thread.

sadness hits me mainly at night but at least it's bearable

Though not sure if he's ready to hear this right now...
HER FROM HER!!!! Wish I can hear about her day and everything

Firstly mr YeshivaGuy from Dunkin', I hope our friend mr Emotional is subscribed to YOUR thread.

Secondly I wrote it for our friend to read 2 years after he's married Gotcha.

Ive had a lot of stuff to say here but have held back cuz didn't think it would be appreciated or heeded...

I'm gonna comment on everyone's opinions etc! But first I wanna talk about my day- day #3!
And then I wanna share something that's in my mind that I'm wishing to share with my girlfriend but I'm gonna post it here to get it off my chest;)

So #3!!! I got up early!!!! Went to the mikvah before shachris, davened after, and picked up an amazing breakfast and went to yeshiva!!! Had an amazing day with a lil on and off and actually but I'm in track!!!! Praying praying praying!!!! Learning and going unbelievably amazing!!!! I treated myself to a big huge 400$ speaker to uplift my soul and Blast my favorite Jewish music!!!! Played football with my friends tonight and something came in the mail(something I worked hard on and special for my love)!!! And had a really good talk in learning with one of my friends !!!

I don't think any single will properly understand what the married guys say about marriage.

a slip

I too thought one way and only realized after marriage, so I don't think it's smart to try convince a single to think like us.

I think it's great that singles have the passion sam has for marriage.

As far as not being able to survive without her, someone meantioned codependency, that might be a factor here.

Again I don't think a single can properly understand how codependency will effect them because only marriage will properly bring out by the person his codependency.

This is part of nature how hashem set things up, we only see things properly once we're there.

So sam, keep up the fighting!! Don't be nispoel. Try finding a therapist, that ca guide you through this chapter of your life.

I support your feelings, that this might be your potential wife, however for now taking a break will do great.

Hatslocho,

And I want to share a special thought with my love! I wish I would know how she's feeling at the MOMENT;)! I wish I can say "honey, don't forget your love is here for you, he really loves and cares so much about you... and we're in this together.." I wanna give her a big hug or at least and make sure she's doing ok and managing with this break! "Honey, always remember why we did what we did the step we took!!! And always remember I'm here for you! Always and forever!!! We're just taking this small healthy break darling!! If you only knew!!! If you only know how much reward we're getting how much reward your getting my davvening is so much more concentrated!! My learning is UNFATHOMABLE!!!! Honey, this step is going amazing for me (there are some challenging moments of course), and BOY your getting a hell of a lot of reward!!! Hang in there darling, very very soon we'll be again on a date together have an awesome conversation together and most importantly always remember if anything really gets too painful we're here for each other" !!! These are my thoughts so I'm sharing with the chevra!

I'm sure she's missing you immensely too, and wondering the same thing about you!

I truly admire your strength!

I hope I'm not overstepping my boundaries, but it's only because I care.

Here's my observation. By constantly thinking about her, and wishing you can share with her every step of your day, you still feel connected to her. You almost feel like you owe it to her, and by not obsessing over it, you are being disloyal.

If this is true, and I say if, because I know I can definitely be wrong, you must let go. The only way to be able to get on with your life is with moving on. Starting to live in the here and now. Start to live the present. This isn't easy at all, I'm sure, but it's probably the only way.

No writing in notebooks, no imagining her reaction to things etc. Just you Mr. Awesome SAM. Living life from today on.

You both made a mature, smart decision together and she wants you to live your life. She wants you to actually reap the fruits of this difficult yet rewarding decision. By not moving on, you are only handicapping yourself.

Correct me if I'm wrong.

Grant
