

Enough is Enough

Posted by jackthejew - 04 Jan 2022 18:06

Hi, I'm a 21 year old Yeshiva Bochur. I started with books, magazines, and pictures @ age 13 and moved on to video @ 16. I became trapped in ABDL and hardcore BDSM porn. I've struggled on and off since 16 with porn, but B"H I've been clean from masturbation for over a year and a half.

After some time away, I feel it's helpful for me to jump back in to the craziness of the wonderful forum on a more regular basis. So, I'll be trying to check in more often, and maybe chime in now and then. Accordingly, I've reset my counter too. It's good to be back. Ah Freilechin Almost Purim!

Hi Jack, I'm glad to see you're back, having read this made me see what you wrote above back in March (written before I joined) and that would've made me sad. So...welcome back!!

Wonderfully crazy is a nice way to describe the forum. And your posts which I find thoughtful and helpful will make it even more enjoyable.

And remember ..."help will always be given at Hogwarts to those who ask for it"...

So... (Started the sentence with a coordinating conjunction just for the Grammarians out there)

This past Shabbos, I had an interesting experience, and I would like to share the thought process.

was walking down a street, and saw, out of the corner of my eye, a frum lady wearing a brightish blue dress. Then that voice in my head said, "That's a bright dress, look again at how odd that color is." When I processed that, I thought to myself, I don't think that the reason I feel like looking is because of the color. Looking slightly to her right, she was pushing a blue riding car occupied by a kid dressed in blue. (IDK if this family just really likes blue) So, I reflected, obviously the reason for looking wasn't the blue color, but rather the usual instinct to check out a woman. Then, I considered, what would be my reaction if a car in that color came down the street? Would I even bother with a casual second glance? Probably not. Therefore, I must not be that amazed by a vivid blue color in general. As if to confirm this, at that moment, a car in a much louder electric blue passed right by.

Have you also noticed, perhaps, that "electric blue" rhymes with "Jack the Jew"?

Keep trucking, brutha, whether blue or not.

You're a special soul.

Amazing! I love that self talk.

Happens to be that blue is my best color but ya you'd still be looking for the woman and than feel blue.

Keep plowing,

Well said. I noticed I have such a train of thought too. Like: hey I wonder if that dress is the same color as.. or whatever, just as an excuse to look again.

After coming back for a while, My Rabbeim and mentors both on and off- forum have informed me that it's time to step back off again. Thank you to all those who've helped me and helped guide me, talked with me, and most importantly straightened me out. To my Rabbeim, mentors, and therapists. To the GYE Hanhala and moderators. No words suffice.

To all the friends I've gained: Please feel free to keep in touch, although the time has come for me to leave the recovery journey to others. Thank you to everyone who participated in making me into a different person and giving me life. Thank you all.
