

I love you all

Hello everyone. I just want to say how impressive this site is and how lucky we are to have a part in it. I'm just your average yeshiva guy with nisyonos like everyone else, and the fact that I can find people to relate to and talk with about this subject is literally amazing. It's the tool we need to bring moshiach. Thank you hashem for GYE. Hope to get to know the oilam a little better. Good shabbos!

No actually. I never really trusted anyone in my social circles with this topic. You know how it is... I wish people could be more open about these inyanim.

I was actually just thinking over shabbos how much more hostile the world is because of the anonymity of Twitter. But that same anonymity is bringing together yidden of all stripes with similar struggles. It's funny because a lot of our sexual fantasies are fueled by the web, and we have a tool on the web to help. Idk just food for thought I guess.
