I joined the SA group!!!!!!

I an sober for the longest time in my life!!!!!!!!!!

I feel good not to be living a double life.

Yesterday I didnt put on tefilin and had the honesty to tell my wife.

Why didn't you put on tefilin, and why did you suddenly had to tell your wife?!

Good for you! Great work! Just beware about telling the wife, ask your sponsor before, it is a tricky "honesty".

Amazing!! Happy to hear that you found what works for you.

Would you share what you had tried before joining SA that didn't help you?

Oboy!

Please don't interrogate your brother (at least that's what it sounded like to me)

Give him a high 5 for taking AMAZING BOLD steps, and what you don't understand it's fine...

I'm in SA for a long time.

Did your wife ask you, or did you just tell her ? What I mean is have you agreed on you telling her about tefilin? My opinion and personal experience with Tefilin isn't relevant.

I was taught there's a distinction between honesty and dumping information on someone so that I can 'feel' better.

As for disclosure I just realized that someone already mentioned that here.

I would like to suggest something a bit out of the box.

Our name defines who we are.

Our name expresses our I

How do we view ourselves.

You are not a hypocrite. (as your nickname suggests)

Not even deep down.

Don't change your name.

Maybe we can change the psyche power in our brain that chooses the name.

??? ????? ??? ??? ... ?? ?? ?????

?? ????? ?? ??????

Our definition, our name, who we are, is one who is ruling over ??? the sar of esaiv

Everything else is just happenstance.

Feel good, feel powerful. (We work on the practical actions after that)
