

This time for real

Posted by ainshumyeiush - 15 Sep 2023 07:18

I've been 'signed up' with gye for a while now (since covid), but i haven't really used the site. Now I've reached a place where I'm ready to jump in and kick this addiction for good.

i got the gye app and started reading, starting the f2f program and the 90 day challenge. Now I'm posting here.

I've struggled with p&m for about 6/7 years now. At first it was p when i was home and m when i was in yeshiva. I did have a smartphone for a few months in mesivta, but i got rid of it when i thought i was going to get caught.

then i got a new ('kosher') phone and found a loophole. And it was p&m daily for many years. [the loophole was literally just for p i wasn't able to access gye or anything else] i got in touch with a partner through gye and got the loophole taken care of. For about 8 months it was only m and every time i went home i would 'catch up'. Then i found a new loophole and back to square one.

now I've been in Israel for a while and don't have that loophole, but i still desperately needed my fix. So i found a new loophole/backdoor.

now that I'm getting ready to go back to america i realized what a mess I've been making out of my life (finally see how p&m were at the root of getting kicked out of a few yeshivas, not 'overbearing rabbis who were out to get me') i got back in touch with my partner, i spoke to my father, blocked all the loopholes/backdoors and i downloaded the gye app. I'm going home for Bein Hazmanim soon and looking forward to the first one in years without YouTube, movies, forums and porn.

i started talking with hashemhelpme and look forward to being part of the gye community.

@connected i thought of his signature after @chaimoigen pointed out the whole "i" issue.

anyhow, some reflections from yesterday, which was really tough. I fell into the age old trap of "it's not actually porn, it doesn't constitute a fall, I'll just look a little to satisfy the craving and then ill be fine." i really should've seen it coming. There's only 2 ways it ends. Either with porn and/or acting out. Or with holding back, but you've fed the beast and now its worse. And now its super hard and frustrating to pull yourself away. Thankfully i only had to deal with the second option. But it was exhausting. And i cant afford to risk it again. This morning i realized that its pretty straightforward, just don't go looking for trouble and it wont come. Yes, i will probably have that 'itch' come back at some point. But i have to just live with that discomfort. Thinking i can satisfy it to make it go away will either make it worse or make me fall.

Truer words are hard to find.

But-

what's not always so straightforward is keeping on not wanting to go looking for trouble....

I've been very successful BH with a no-internet-that's-not-targeted-for-a-specific-use policy. But it took me a while to be ready to do that. To want it.

(News flash- contrary to what I kept trying to tell myself- life isn't boring.)

Life is good. Especially here, with friends.

keep trucking, AYSHY!

I want to scream. I want to punch the wall. Anything but turn to porn. Theres 9 billion ways to fall, and only one to stay clean. Who am i? Who do i want to be? Why am i even on this site?

What do i want in life? These questions all involve the same thing, no porn. Blah. Just keep on trucking i guess.

There are 2 things that need to change inside your brain.

1. YOu need to separate yourself from your desires. You are not a Pornholic or Masturbator. You are a holy YID with a holy Neshama!

You have so much to offer, you have so many interests, so many ideas! You are a small world! Yes, you also have a sex drive thats been a little perverted and used in instacnes where it wasnt meant to be used, BUT. THATS. NOT. YOU!!! Practice diffusion. Look it up on the F2F Program.

2. Once you are able to grasp this, your brain will rewire to a great extent, and you will be able to focus more on things that you actually want in life or hobbies that are healthy and good for you and those around you.

The feeling of panic that i MUST look at porn or i MUST masturbate is nothing but an easily refutable lie, its just your brain doing what it was used to be doing, and not knowing how to do anything different. give it time and it will get better and easier. Trust me! The less you give in now, the less you will need to fight next time, every time you give in you are making it more difficult because you are getting your brain more and more hooked.

For the first time in your life, allow yourself to feel free, you are not bound to anything, you dont need to do what your mind is telling you to, be free to enjoy the here and now.

Have a Zise Lechtiga shabbos everyone!!

When will i find my place? I don't want to be here in yeshiva. Or at least, im not really enjoying it. Everybody makes it look so easy. Just show up, sit down and learn. But i just cant get myself to do it. I could learn, Ive been told that i have a good head, but i don't feel like i get anything from it. And it doesn't help that i feel stuck over here. I need space to breath, and im not getting it. I value the concept of spending the whole day being involved in hashems Torah, having nothing to do but focus on Davening and learning and working on myself. But its a killer.

i wish it was like that. The main difference between now and any other zman is that im not using porn and social media to escape the feelings

Today is day 30. I know i should celebrate, and i was looking forward for today for a while now, but honestly, i don't feel like it.

i almost wish i could go back to porn. I acknowledge that i used it to escape from the reality of life. And i still want to escape. Before it didn't bother me so much if a chavrusa dumped me, i felt frustrated with myself for not following the sugya, i felt trapped in yeshiva with no outlet or i couldn't sit through a full Seder. Because i always had an alternative reality to disappear to. I could submerge myself in the fantasy world of porn and social media and be comfortably numb.

Now i don't have that option. And i miss it. Yes there were negative effects, but i now have to deal with the negative parts of life. I almost want to give up and go back. Everyone talks about "feeling their emotions" "living in reality" "being able to interact with other people" and im not in the mood of that.

im trustingtrusting you guys that it gets better, and im hoping these feelings pass, and im working on having healthy outlets. But i don't know if i enjoy it better this way
