

Giving it another shot

Posted by sytv2002 - 04 Jun 2024 19:11

Hey

I've been off this site for a while now. I've had some good streaks with my fight against p. I thought this time was it. But it wasn't. I fell again. So today I'm just here to say hi. That's all really. Kind of feeling hopeless. And definitely upset with myself. I'm open to talking if anyone would want to reach out. I just started shidduchim and was really hoping to be clean by now. Yea I don't know what else to say lol. Feel free to say hi.

How I wish I were clean since I've started shidduchim! Ashrecha that you've begun working on this now.

Your Neshama is pure even if you dont feel that right now....

Buddy, you're in a good place here - we feel your pain.....

Stick around, learn the ropes, and most of all, feel free to reach out privately....

Wishing you much love and success,

Muttel
