

Years of suffering

Posted by justkeeptrying - 11 Jun 2024 04:20

Hi everyone,

So I finally built up the courage to introduce myself hoping that this can somehow help me.

I got into p&m in 11th grade and it's been a long 8 years since trying to stop.

I think like most people here I have had better and worse moments and I've definitely had those times that I was clean for a while and thought I was over it as well as those times that I thought I would never be able to stop which is where I kind of am right now.

I think I've tried many different ways to stop including speaking to Rabbeim, therapists about it as well as putting filters on my phone ect but as I've come to unfortunately learn there's always a way around a filter and I just don't really know where to go from here.

If you guys can please reach out hopefully some of your ideas and tricks may be able to work for me and get me going in the right direction .

Thanks!

Hey!

Welcome to the GYE family.

Here you will find hope, warmth, acceptance, and most importantly, growth.

Stick around, read some threads, and keep posting.

(If you're really daring and want to jump right in, reach out to Hashem Help Me (HHM) michelgelner@gmail.com - one of the main mentors on the site. He has helped hundreds, present company included. If you're not ready yet, take your time...)

We don't have any magical tricks up our sleeve that will help. Only friends that have been down the same road and understand you all too well. There is a wealth of information that you can pick up, but more importantly are the friends you'll make. They are the most compassionate, understanding, and empathetic group you will find anywhere. Stick around get to know the Oilam around here, find someone who's struggle you identify with, and reach out to him. Like the Yungerman before me suggested, a good place to start would be by reaching out to the Rebbe HHM. He has started hundreds of us on our journey to sobriety. Let the journey begin! You got this!

Welcome! Try strengthening yourself with these great free resources:

1) The Battle of the Generation: a sensational free ebook that seriously gets you excited to fight and win this fight. It's a real game-changer.

2) The Fight: an incredible audio series from Rabbi Shafier.

Links are below in my signature.

Also, if you are able and are willing to make the big sacrifice, consider removing the Internet from your phone altogether using something like MB Smart (depending on what phone you have). While such actions are far from a cure-all, it can be a big help.

Wishing you much success!
