

Starting my Journey

Posted by noblequest - 06 Jul 2024 14:45

Hello,

I am a little unsure if I can be here. I am not Jewish, but I have struggled with sexual immorality most of my life and I just know that's not how I want to be, and I was browsing online for tools that can help me change and came across GYE. Is this website open to other people who are not Jewish? Because I do want to change, but I need help and I've started my Journey today here and wanted to introduce myself.

While most of the people here are religious Jews, all of the tools and ideas will work for you as long as you are human. Wishing you the best of luck
