Quite a boring post for you, Redfaced...Crookshanks got your tongue?!

Bain adam l'chaveiroh par excellence, what a star

One day at a time, your motto in a jar

Reminding us Constant Vigilance! so loudly

Ignatius Percy would beam so proudly

Not one to ever collapse or crumble

Gevurah's Monster Knight Bus you always rumble

Thank you for your listening ear(s) and for always cracking us up!

We appreciate your wise and happy presence on this forum.

Much continued Hazlacha, ma'looh ma'looh!

(P.S. The submission was better. Even if it got less thank you's.

Godspeed)

There was a young man of Bombay

who was making explosives one day.

But he dropped his cigar

... in the gunpowder jar...

There WAS a young man of Bombay.

kaabooooooooooooOOOOOOMMM!!!

Under all the layers of humor, mischief, and bluster, beats a sensitive and caring heart that empathizes with the plight of anyone going through difficult times. A shoulder to cry on when it's tough, a hug (squeeze?) that lifts up when down, and an encouraging pat when there are bumps on the road. You are a true friend who brightens all of our days with good cheer and Chizuk. Keep on trucking and inspiring in the way that only you can.

Mischief? Y'must be referring to YKW. He's the mischief manager

AMBER ALERT:

Missing person, red face, last seen bound and gagged in the back of a Flying Ford Anglia.

AMBER ALERT:

Missing person, red face, last seen bound and gagged in the back of a Flying Ford Anglia.

Thanks for nothing, Moldy .

That Flying Ford Anglia you stuffed me in (I'm kind of annoyed you had to bind and gag me - you knew I had no idea how to fly the damn thing) was on a direct collision course for the Whomping Willow. And yes, I've been Whomped.

Whomped hard.

'Twas a rough couple of weeks my side of Hogwarts. Was down in the deepest dungeons Snape ever gave detention in.

The only joy I had in my life was ignoring EVERYONE who reached out to me. That was fun.

And if you didnt reach out to me, shame on you. In big red pustules . On your forehead. Like
Marrietta Edgecomb

Did some volunteer work testing out Techloq. (Yes there is internet service in those dungeons)
At the time I was annoyed the filter was so good - but now I'm happy (I think).

Moral of the story is, to paraphrase Foolie-

Life is what you make of it - than you die

EDIT- I'm still getting whomped- but its time to put other people down in an attempt to pick myself up.

If you are out of the dungeon, it would be a good idea to get some fresh air and sunlight buddy.
And maybe while you are outside you will bump into a friend.
