GYE - Guard Your Eyes Generated: 13 September, 2025, 15:28 Meet a New Person Posted by bendurdayah - 22 Apr 2010 01:28 Well, here I am again, BH. It is quite amazing to see all of the stories, feel all of the pain and despair, and read all of the support and hope that you all offer. My short story: I've been struggling for a long, long time. I"ve lost so much that I cannot even begin to speak. But, BH, I have not lost hope, and I am very thankful for that. As the Rambam says, a bal teshuva becomes a new person, not the same person that committed the aveiros. And that is the new person I would like to introduce you to, and introduce myself to. I do feel that this addiction is not the cause of my problem, rather, a symptom of never really getting to know myself in a real way. Always trying to escape that profound encounter. I don't know if I am scared about what I think I will find, or just too lazy. And if you don't know yourself, how can you know a spouse, your children, community? Everything becomes so superficial --- passing time till the next escapade - escape-aid. So, I hope to get to know you venerable members, and I hope and pray that I can get to meet myself, and cease the great escape. wishing you all tremendous hatzlocho, BD
