Hi, guys. I've heard that folks are trying to sign up for 90 day chart and the system's not working.

Well, I don't know about everybody. I just registered myself using the signup link found in the "Wall of Honor" sticky note:

<http://www.guardyoureyes.org/forum/index.php?topic=371.0>

And then I followed the registration form. And then I checked my email. And then I SAW an email. And then I clicked the link... and then I seemed to be in.

Your mileage may vary. And Reb Guard himself should be back by the end of the week. So in the meantime, just keep track of your clean day progress and I bet he'll help update everything when he returns.

And if anyone needs a "virtual" 90 day chart, so just start a thread of your own in the Wall of Honor and ask people to send you fanmail every morning that you report you're clean. I bet someone would reply!
