

Hello from Blind Beggar

Posted by Blind Beggar - 28 Aug 2010 21:19

Hello Tzaddikim! I just found this site last week. I think it is going to make my Rosh Hashono and Yom Kippur. I think the newness of the 90 day chart will get me 40 clean days to Shemini Atzeres but I am afraid of what will happen next. Does anyone have any suggestions?

I have read enough of the forum to see that you are all tzaddikim and all serving Hashem every day clean and again after every fall.

The holy Baal Shem Tov taught that the yetzer horo is more interested in the post-sin depression than in the sin itself.

Blind Beggar who wants to have eyes only for Hashem.

Thanks for sharing.

The way I go on about it you would think I am the only person in GYE who is not in kollel. Don't forget I was in kollel until very recently. All the women at work are somewhat tznuah, it is yerushalayim Ir hakodesh after all.

I have my ups and downs and try to post the ups as well as the downs.

On Sundays, I am the spam filter and I do sometimes click on the links "just to be sure". Yesterday, I got a trailer for a porno movie. I watched the first few seconds twice but in the end I deleted the email and erased my browser history beyond my ability to retrieve it.

I also had a 50 word IM conversation with a woman who is even newer than I am, just to say hello. It was only a hello but I have being imagining her being single and wondering if I was also single and thinking maybe I was fishing for a good time and

When will I learn?

Glad to be able to share.

Thanks guys. I admire you both for how you take shmiras eynaim to the level of thought. I understand that it is at that level, where we take responsibility for the lingering in mind and imagination, that our aveiras can be sweetened, and transformed into mitzvos.

By the grace of God and with the help of GYE and SA I now have 300 days of sobriety by SA's definition.

300 days

I am still in danger of falling and I do slip sometimes but I am a different man now. That's after years and years of constant failing.

Thank you Hashem.
