Side point, I agree with LKV on one thing.

Webchaver is great for a non-addict to avoid everyone's natural temptation.

For an addict (which LKV describes himself as) web chaver will not solve any problems. Only working on one's self and changing attitudes will help an "addict".

said ;D : in my case its stupid

Had you actually taken the time to read the GYE handbook you would see that it is way past the 12-steps (of which by the way every single one can be found in the Chovos Halevovos). For example:

The Pasuk in Mishlai (18:1) says: "Le'taava yevakesh nifrad - Desire seeks isolation". Being isolated causes us to go after our Taavah - our lust. The addiction wants us to withdraw into ourselves and disconnect from life. A partner in this struggle can do wonders in helping us reconnect to the world around us and ultimately break free. Going into detail with someone else about what we've done, is also known to be one of the best ways to get out the shame, guilt and remorse, and move on.

In addition to the above, simply telling over our feelings and thoughts to a friend or mentor, has tremendous power to help us break the insidious power of the addiction. As the Tzetel Katan of the great Chassidic master, R' Elimelech of Lizentzk states:

One should relate before one's teacher, who instructs him in the way of HaShem, or even before a good friend, all of one's thoughts that are contrary to the Holy Torah that the Yetzer HaRah causes to arise in his mind or heart. [Whether they occur] when he is learning Torah, praying, sitting in his bed, or during the day. And one should not withhold anything because of shame. He will find that by relating these things, he will gain the power to break the strength of the Yetzer HaRah so that it will no longer be able to overcome him other times. This is in addition to the good advice that he will receive from his friend in the ways of Hashem. And this is a wonderful remedy.

This is torah my friend.

simple: dont think about woman dont watch at woman dont be bored.....

Gee, that's simple...why didn't I think of that!

So you mean that you have such good self control -that you don't even think about women anytime if you don't want to? What are you doing hanging around here? Go grab a gemara and sky-rocket yourself to Gan-Eden!!!

You are the guy who said something about being able to break a wall down when you are "H", to pardon the expression.

I dunno, in order not to think about women you also have to not see them...for instance in the street.

Do you have Gabboim who block your whole field of vision and a personal driver who takes you to all the woman-free places where you hang out?

laagvokeles wrote on 09 Jan 2011 20:14:

i also have a filter that i cant watch even kosher sites if they have woman (i made my own list) isnt this enough?

I don't know if it's enough...that's your call -but for a guy who can say (this is a quote):

"once i ?? ?????? would get horny, no web watcher no nothing can help believe me..... ill brake a wall...."

Is that enough?

"Yitzro Shel Adam Misgaber Alav Bechol Yom Veilmalai Hakadosh Baruch Hu Ozer Lo, Aino Yuchal Lo" is that in your Torah LvK? It is in mine last time I checked. What are you doing different today than you have done for the past 10 years to gain Hashem's assistance in being misgaber over you Yetzer for porn, lust and taivah? It's a simple question.

If the answer is to never think about woman. Ask yourself what are you going to think about the next time you are with your wife, the next time you walk in the street, the next time you get really horny, the next time you pass a provicative billboard. Unless you are moving to some secluded island, I think you better get a new solution fast.

I guess my post was too long. I forgot you can't read long posts. I quoted you from the Noam Elimelech, have you looked there lately? If you did, did you read what I quoted you. When you do tell me what the answer is.

And, when you go through the 12 steps and you have a question about it I will show you the source in the Chovos Halevovos.

And for those of our friends who are still not fluent in Yiddish (it's only a matter of time, just stick around GYE long enough and you'll be sounding like a native of Meah Shearim or Williamsburg), and for those of you who already are fluent in Yiddish and like a good laugh, here is Google's rendition of the above piece to English:

Apologies, I have not caught as aoysgearbet you. Really a great master level.

However, I must you say ah"n the offense was not until the second glance, but the war-control and hrhurim read out an at first glance. One that could say for himself, "When I am not * y "If I meet your words" can I break walls, "is we hard to believe that the have no problem with the first glance. masterwork because I you dear Rabbi Jew, so I ask your forgiveness for the fgyeh in your honor, but you know not yourself what you like. knows yet out that your life is still not sufficiently destroyed, and it does you no so sore that you cease to parishes a head for themselves and for another.

Gee, that almost sounds like my friend Yoeli from Shumrum (or any other (self-)appointed 'spokesman for any Ultra-Orthodox Hassidic Sect/"Community Leader" etc., etc.) commenting on an incident which took place at Lee an Drudney the other day to FOX-news....

And just about as understandable and intelligent as well,

While I certainly hope that Hashem helps you succeed. It would be a big mistake to think you (we) have done Teshuva. You may have klopped "Al Cheit" but that's about it.
