

let me put a question out there...

Is it possible for someone (who shall remain nameless ofcourse) who for 50+ years has been at such a low level of "Taharah" because of his lack of concern of "Nahgeeyah" issues, to be forgiven and accepted by "Hashem Yisborach"? Is it conceivable that in such a circumstance Chazal say if Dina would have married Eisov she might have helped him do teshuva. He had masterbation would be an acceptable substitution for worse transgressions? Over 100 years of the worst zhus you couldn't imagine plus he murdered all the gerim that Avrohom Ovinu made and did every other type of evil, but still he could have done teshuva. And Hashem hates Eisov but He loves you more than the Baal Shem Tov z"I loved the biggest tzaddik!

I'm writing this in a dov-ish mood (perhaps L'kavod Rosh Chodesh Adar B'):

This is a very cute discussion.

Big Aveirah, small Aveirah...

I think I'm missing something here...

Is that your problem? Is Yiras Shamayim enough to keep you at bay if the Aveirah is big enough? And what happens if the Aveirah is too big?

It wasn't enough for me. I went to SA for a different way of life, because I can't handle masturbation whether it's assur or a mitzvah! But then again, I'm just an addict. If you feel that you can masturbate and keep your sanity and not go any further -good for you! But it usually doesn't end that way. It didn't for me at least. If you decide that this is wrecking your life to the point where you can't live this way anymore, than maybe there's something we can do to help you out...

In the meantime maybe the other SA (Shulchan Aruch) will take care of things. Some of our Lamdanim say that if you find the right special posek you may get a heter to masturbate. Jolly me!

Sorry,

E

Dearest Friend,

Hashem Is always accepting those who return full heartily.

Your question about which sin etc.

is almost like asking should I cut off my left part of my heart or the right side.

the answer is: if you can avoid doing both why would you settle for one?

Believe that Hashem created you with YOUR yetzer hora and the same G-d also commended you not to sin both sins, he obviously gives you the power to over come your yetzer horah, vein hadovar tolu y elo becho, it's all depended on YOU.

I have been to two of these meetings.

I go to the flatbush meetings.

Honestly, it is huge. They have 4 meetings a week and it is almost always packed (around 30 people).

It is in a very convenient location, and basically all Jews. There are 2 black guys who come steadily, and a couple non-affiliated people.

Of the Jews who come, almost all are frum. There are like 4 chassidish guys who come steady, couple more modernish folk, 5 chabadniks, and the rest are yeshivish.

People often drop yeshivish lingo here and there, even [color]
