

How to approach dating for a recovering addict

Posted by TheBigX90 - 14 May 2015 01:19

I have a question to open up to the forum. I'd like to hear about guys opinions on the matter. How does someone who's a recovering addict go about dating for the first time ever? How does he avoid thinking those thoughts when he's on a date? Also, how does he look at his date in a non-lustful way?

I'd appreciate guys feedback if they have any.
