

slip or fall?

Posted by mr.clean - 26 Sep 2013 05:17

you know those times that you are just so taken over by lust that you feel that your going crazy so in a situation like that if one goes online not to view not n but just some questionable pix to get some sort of release/outlet and stays at that point(nothing worse then one would see in a movie) is that a fall or a slip?

=====
=====

Re: slip or fall?

Posted by skeptical - 29 Sep 2013 06:53

I will leave whether it's a slip or a fall to those better qualified.

I would just like to point out that viewing pictures to get some sort of release/outlet, does not really help the situation. All it really does is build up the desire even more, and fuels more fantasies.

In order to really succeed, we need to make a decision to leave all that stuff in the past.

Hatzlacha!

=====
=====

Re: slip or fall?

Posted by LeHavote Aish - 02 Nov 2013 21:00

If somehow a dirty thought comes to one's mind and he continues developing it but he succeeds in stopping before he acts on it or develops it too far, is that a slip or a fall?

=====
=====

Re: slip or fall?

Posted by skeptical - 03 Nov 2013 03:52

I would say that's a slip.

Move on and don't give it any more thought.

Hatzlacha!

=====
=====

Re: slip or fall?

Posted by cordnoy - 03 Nov 2013 07:40

This site has rules, but the only difference it will make at all is for you (I think). So decide!

it should be b'hatzlachah

=====
=====

Re: slip or fall?

Posted by LeHavote Aish - 03 Nov 2013 11:06

Thanks!

I had 3 hard Nisyyonot on Shabbat but Baruch Hashem, Hashem saved me from them, I am in my third week of the 90 days and my Yeitser HaRah is working extra hours,

KOT and Chodesh Tov!

=====
=====