Does anybody knows why the Yiddish site is down?

Is anyone working on it to get it back on?

whats the story here?

we are all locked out, and we dont have any info about it, can the admins send out an email to all the yiddish site members to hold on tight and to send them all some kind of information about it and when it will be back up and running??

we worked very hard to get it interesting and new members, we dont wont this hard work should get lost.

As always, Thank You for all of you hard and great work

I am actually havin' difficulty now with the Czech women; I don't quite understand them initially. Three minutes into the dialogue, I catch on. Maybe I'm just slow.
