

HOW DID YOU FIND OUT ABOUT GYE? - (oh, and Where are you from?)

Posted by the.guard - 15 Dec 2009 12:05

I think it would be very enlightening for us to know HOW you found out about us.

- Was it an on-line ad? If so, where?
- Was it a printed ad? What mag/newspaper?
- Was it an article about us? Where?
- A flyer someone hung up somewhere?
- Did you find it on Google by chance?

- Word of mouth?
- Therapist?
- Mashgiach?
- etc...

And if you are not too afraid of anonymity issues, it would also be nice to know WHERE you live... So for example, if people could post on this thread something like this:

"Where What When" magazine - Baltimore

- Did you find it on Google while looking for bad stuff?
or something like that.

Thanks guys!

found out on completely random website - don't remember which, had nothing to do with porn. Someone posted one of those spam replies to an article, which said something like "come and become holy at guardyoureyes.org" or something like that ;D

from Jerusalem environs area

I found it just few days ago, while searching for advice on the matter of m*, I think, but its extremely fuzzy in my memory for some reason even though it was so recent. It was the first time that I did a search for such advice since about 2009 which is when the website probably wouldn't have popped up on the top of search results since it was just starting out, if I am not mistaken

Suffice to say for constructive advertising data purposes, that it wasn't easy to find for me personally without Hashem literally pushing me here. I think that some discrete but intriguing pamphlets that would be distributed in yeshivas would help immensely since whatever takes off there usually has a good chance of taking off everywhere else. A good example would be the see you-on-shabbos website, I saw an advertisement for it on a pamphlet somewhere around a yeshiva and checked it out but its something I would almost 100% guaranteed never have just stumbled upon by myself by chance.

In a very roundabout way (AKA hashgacha). My wife got some Rebbetzin Twerski tapes. I thought they were interesting so I looked for more "Twerski" stuff. I found some MP3s of Rabbi Twerski online, and also found some of his articles on the GUE site. As they say, the rest is history.

I had seen the ads for a while on VIN, Yeshivaworld etc. I had always assumed it was another filtering service like Yeshivanet or Jnet, at the time I was deep in the shmutz and not willing to Then just a couple of days after I had told my wife and committed to cleaning myself up, but still struggling alone, I was on a website that had posts making fun of "frum" things (I know i shouldn't be on sites like that, I try to do it less now). They had a post making fun of the GYE handbook, specifically the Taphsic "rubber band snapping" thing. There was a link to the actual handbook, I was curious so I clicked and started reading. The whole world changed for me....

from brooklyn (what anonymity issues can i have with THAT). found it while looking for "good stuff" actually, i was tired of pn and searched for lo sasuru, or something like that, then out of the blue i don't know exactly what happened, but i hit a button by mistake and some really bad stuff came up on the screen which promptly caused me to forget all of my good intentions, i refound it close to two weeks ago, for the life of me i can't remember how, and i'm now a proud Google....

...??? ?????? ????? ?????? except here.

I was at horrible rock-bottom and searched for "frum internet addiction" untill i found the old guardureyes.com site.

From the states, tri-state area to be exact. Now in Israel, ?-? vacinity to be veige.

i would be thrilled to meet all you guys in the context of an SA meeting, I would cry to no end. Hey lets do a shabbos??????? everyone (In israel).
