hey emu,

remember when you were the lawyer in that case of the blood libel?

(Disclaimer: this thread is in no way intended to make litzanos of any part of yiddishkeit, it is meant solely for the purpose of being mesameach yidden and giving anyone who needs a kosher outlet a place to write. thank you for your understanding and cooperation)

usually i remove the klipos from an orange but recently I tasted chocolate coated orange klipos and they were good.

I don't know if it's such a good idea to eat klipos...

efsher if you eat it with some woodford then it's ok.

But on shabbos it might be assur altz mesaken maneh.

gye version of the black cat ash.

- 1)take the seventh son of a roadkill possum
- 2)get a kickboxing master to cut it up for you.
- 3)boil it in cholenade
- 4)put into a woodford bottle during adar sheni

If you do all this then sometimes lets you can see ashmadai.

if you do this and it doesn't work then it might just be that ashmadai wasn't there when you looked so KOT.
