waiting for the fresh bread to come out of the oven, the smell is wafting thru my apt. As is th smell of fresh roasted tomato soup, with tilapia on the grill. mmmm.....

Giraffes can lick their ears.
this is such an evil thread

and on the subject of food, hear is a quote from Tom Sawyer (i'm reading it now)

But

say — how do you cure ‘em with dead cats?’

‘Why, you take your cat and go and get in the graveyard

‘long about midnight when somebody that was wicked has been buried; and when it’s midnight a devil will come, or maybe two or three, but you can’t see ‘em, you can only hear something like the wind, or maybe hear ‘em talk; and when they’re taking that feller away, you heave your cat after ‘em

and say, ‘Devil follow corpse, cat follow devil, warts follow cat, I’m done with ye!’ That’ll fetch ANY wart.’

‘Sounds right. D’you ever try it, Huck?’

‘No, but old Mother Hopkins told me.’

‘Well, I reckon it’s so, then. Becuz they say she’s a witch.’

doesn't this belong in the "Practical Kabbalah" thread?

what an eishes chayil!

, zucchini sticks (better then the
, home-made bread (the smell this afternoon was unbearably good), aaand then she serves blackened tilapia:silly:

Now THATS an Oyisfast!!!!
And then we had roasted tomato soup (aaahhhmazing!!!!)

Best not to go overboard - that can feel worse than the fasting.

As we all know, self control is the key (to many things).

Is this place open today as well?

I used to be a mashgiach in a kitchen [run by a guy named Mottel], I could really use the extra cash flow, and my hashgacha is accepted by rabbanut, chasam sofer, belz, rubin, and Eida Chareidis [capital letters].

Do we have a deal?
