Some funny quotes

"Why does Sea World have a seafood restaurant?? I'm halfway through my fish burger and I realize, Oh man....I could be eating a slow learner."

"I'm in no condition to drive...wait! I shouldn't listen to myself, I'm drunk!" -Homer J. Simpson

"I do not like broccoli. And I haven't liked it since I was a little kid and my mother made me eat it. And I'm President of the United States and I'm not going to eat any more broccoli." -George Bush.

"You have to stay in shape. My grandmother, she started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 today and we don't know where the heck she is."

"The pen is mightier than the sword, and considerably easier to write with."

"Sometimes I lie awake at night, and I ask, 'Where have I gone wrong?' Then a voice says to me, 'This is going to take more than one night.' "

"On my first day in New York a guy asked me if I knew where Central Park was. When I told him I didn't he said, 'Do you mind if I mug you here?'."

A joke

1)A young Jewish man was visiting a psychiatrist, hoping to cure his eating and sleeping disorder. "Every thought I have turns to my mother," he told the psychiatrist. "As soon as I fall asleep and begin to dream, everyone in my dream turns into my mother. I wake up so upset that all I can do is go downstairs and eat a piece of toast."

The psychiatrist replied, "What, just one piece of toast for a big boy like you?"

Did you know that brachot and parts of tefila complain to Hashem?

First, "Asher Yatzar" complained to Hashem. "Do you see what these Jews are doing right before they say me? It's gross! How about a little respect?"

Hashem said "No problem! My Jews are going to say you under the chupah!

Then, "Aleinu" complained to Hashem. "These Jews mutter me at a rapid pace while folding up a tallit! They have one foot out the door before they even finish saying me! How about a little respect?"

Hashem said "No problem! I'm going to put you right in the middle of Rosh Hashanna and Yom Kippur prayers! They'll get down on their hands and knees to say you!"

Later on, "Tachanun" complained to Hashem. "Hashem! Your Chassidim never say me! This rebbe's yahrtzeit, that rebbe's yahrtzeit! How about a little respect?"

Hashem said "Tachanun, you have been suffering now for two hundred years of Chassidus. The time has come. I am making a new holiday.

It's called Yom Ha Atzmaut. They will FOR SURE say you on that day!" ;D ;D ;D

Shortly after the Pope had apologized to the Nation of Israel for the treatment of Jews by the Catholic Church over the years, Ehud Barak, the leader of Israel, sent back a message to the College of Cardinals. The proposal was for a friendly game of golf to be played between the two leaders or their representatives to show the friendship and ecumenical spirit shared by the Catholic and Jewish faiths. The Pope met with his College of Cardinals to discuss the proposal.

"Your Holiness," said one of the Cardinals, "Mr. Barak wants to challenge you to a game of golf to show that you are old and unable to compete I am afraid that this would tarnish our image to the world."

The Pope thought about this and as he had never held a golf club in his life asked, "Don't we have a Cardinal to represent me?"

"None that plays golf very well," a Cardinal replied. "But," he added, "there is a man named Jack Nicklaus, an American golfer who is a devout Catholic. We can offer to make him a Cardinal, then ask him to play Mr. Barak as your personal representative. In addition to showing our spirit of co-operation, we'll also win the match."

Everyone agreed it was a great idea. The call was made. Of course, Nicklaus was honored and agreed to play as a representative of the Pope.

The day after the match, Nicklaus reported to the Vatican to inform the Pope of the result. "I have some good news and some bad news, Your Holiness," said the golfer.

"Tell me the good news, Cardinal Nicklaus," said the Pope.

"Well, Your Holiness, I don't like to brag, but even though I've played some pretty terrific rounds of golf in my life, this was the best I have ever played, by far. I must have been inspired from above.

My drives were long and true, my irons were accurate and purposeful, and my putting was perfect. With all due respect, my play was truly miraculous."

"How can there be bad news?" the Pope asked.

Nicklaus sighed, "I lost to Rabbi Tiger Woods by three strokes."

Lets see if this holds up. Markz wrote:

First I thought that you wrote that rubber bands last longer then refrigerators, and I though "that

Peanuts are one of the ingredients of dynamite

There are 293 ways to make change for a dollar.

That only works if you count changing a one dollor bill for a one dollor coin. Otherwise it's only

1¢ - 0

5¢ - 1

10¢ - 3

25¢ - 12

50¢ - 49

$1 - 292

$2 - 2,728

$5 - 111,022

$10 - 3,237,134

$20 - 155,848,897

$50 - 58,853,234,018

$100 - 9,823,546,661,905

I did allow $2 bills. I did not distinguish between $1 coins and $1 bills in change. I thought about that one and decided that if I did distinguish, then I should also distinguish among the 50 different quarters now being issued. And I really didn't want to do that.

The average person's left hand does 56% of the typing.
That's only true with Dvorak keyboards. Most people that I know use the QWERTY keyboard
So that would not be true,

A shark is the only fish that can blink with both eyes.
Sharks don't blink. They have upper and lower eyelids, but these lids don't move and don't close over the eye. When they are attacking their next lunch, some sharks protect their eyes with a third eyelid called the nictitating membrane (it's a thin, tough membrane, or inner eyelid that's in the eyes of many sharks. It can be pulled across the eye to protect it from damage).

Not doing too well here on the Pinocchio count..

There are more chickens than people in the world.

Well, when I was in yeshiva they served chicken every day, and every person got more than one piece, that means that at least before lunch started, there were indeed more chicken than people (assuming that a yeshiva is a accurate reflection of the whole world)

Two-thirds of the world's eggplant is grown in New Jersey.

Actually About 85% of the world's eggplant comes from five countries (China, India, Egypt, Turkey and Indonesia) with China growing more than half of the world's eggplant and India growing more than a quarter, but did you know that Colorado Potato Beetles, Lacebugs, Flea Beetles, Grasshoppers, Hornworms, and Potato Tuberworms also love eggplant as much as

The longest one-syllable word in the English language is "screeched."

On a Canadian two dollar bill, the flag flying over the Parliament building is an American flag. Actually the flag is the "red ensign", Canada's old flag before the 1960s. It is red with the Canadian coat of arms on it, with a Union Jack in the top left corner. If you can still find one,

All of the clocks in the movie "Pulp Fiction" are stuck on 4:20.

It's not true, but in the interests of keeping this forum clean, I'll leave out the details. You gotta trust me on this one.

No word in the English language rhymes with month, orange, silver or purple.

This is a little complicated "sporange" rhymes, it means a sac that contains spores (it has to do with plants))

Silver = chilver, an old dialect word for a ewe lamb (also known as a ???)

purple = hirple, meaning "to limp" or "walk awkwardly."

Months = what about 'blunts', 'fronts', 'grunts', 'hunts',

"Dreamt" is the only English word that ends in the letters "mt".

'redreamt' 'undreamt' are all I could think of, so I guess that one could be correct

All 50 states are listed across the top of the Lincoln Memorial on the back of the $5 bill.

Uh, when the Lincoln Memorial was built there were only 48 states, and only 26 of them are engraved on the front of the momoral, since the bill only shows the front, there are only 26 on it.

Almonds are a member of the peach family.

There is no such thing as the peach family. Almonds and peaches are both members of the rose family. They used to live up the block from me, and we went to the same shul, so I should know.

Winston Churchill was born in a ladies' room during a dance.

He was born in Blenheim Palace, a private residence that doesn't have public bathrooms (or I should say toilets, since we are talking British) . According to what I remember from the news back then, his mother did go into labor during a dance there, and then left the dance to go to a bedroom to give birth. But she didn't give birth until the next day, with the local doctor present, long after all of the dance guests had left. The public statement was that Winston Churchill had been born a couple months prematurely, but I think that this was to hide the fact that he had
