Some funny quotes

"Why does Sea World have a seafood restaurant?? I'm halfway through my fish burger and I realize, Oh man....I could be eating a slow learner."

"I'm in no condition to drive...wait! I shouldn't listen to myself, I'm drunk!" -Homer J. Simpson

"I do not like broccoli. And I haven't liked it since I was a little kid and my mother made me eat it. And I'm President of the United States and I'm not going to eat any more broccoli." -George Bush.

"You have to stay in shape. My grandmother, she started walking five miles a day when she was 60. She's 97 today and we don't know where the heck she is."

"The pen is mightier than the sword, and considerably easier to write with."

"Sometimes I lie awake at night, and I ask, 'Where have I gone wrong?' Then a voice says to me, 'This is going to take more than one night.' "

"On my first day in New York a guy asked me if I knew where Central Park was. When I told him I didn't he said, 'Do you mind if I mug you here?'."

A joke

1)A young Jewish man was visiting a psychiatrist, hoping to cure his eating and sleeping disorder. "Every thought I have turns to my mother," he told the psychiatrist. "As soon as I fall asleep and begin to dream, everyone in my dream turns into my mother. I wake up so upset that all I can do is go downstairs and eat a piece of toast."

The psychiatrist replied, "What, just one piece of toast for a big boy like you?"

Chanukah story

Twas the night before Chanukah, boychiks and maidels,

Not a sound could be heard, not even the dreidels.

The menorah was set on the chimney, just right,

In the kitchen my Bubbe hut gechapt a bite.

Salami, pastrami, a glessala tay

and zayerah pickles with bagels, oy vay!

Gezunt and geschmacht, the kindelech felt,

while dreaming of tegelach and Chanukah gelt.

The clock on the mantle it sure was a tickin,

and Bubbe was serving a schtickala chicken.

A tumult arose like a thousand bruchas,

Santa had fallen and broken his tuchas.

I put on my slippers, eins, tsvey, drei,

while Bubba was now on the herring and rye.

I grabbed my robe and buttoned my gotkes,

While Bubbe was so busy, devouring those latkes.

To the window I ran and to my surprise,

A little red yamulke greeted my eyes.

When he got to the door and saw our menorah,

"Yiddishe kinder," he said, "Kenehora.

I thought I was in a goyisha hoise,
but as long as I am here, I'll leave a few toys."

With much geshray, I asked, "Du bist a yid?"

"Avada, mein numen is Schloimey Claus, kid."

"Come into the kitchen, I'll get you a dish,

A guppell, a schtickla fish."

With smacks of delight, he started his fressen,

Chopped liver, knaidlech and kreplach gegessen.

Along with his meal, he had a bissle schnapps,

For when it came to eating, this boy was the tops!

He asked for some knishes with pepper and salt,

but they were so hot, he yelled, "Oy gevalt!"

Unbuttoning his haizen, he rose from the tisch,

and said, "Your kosher essen is simply delish."

As he went to the door, he said "See you later.

I'll be back next Pesach, in time for the seder."

More rapid than eagles his prancers they came,

as he whistled and shouted and called them by name:

"Now Izzy, now Morris, now Yitzchak, now Sammy,

now Irving and Maxie and Moishe and Manny."

He gave a geshray as he drove out of sight,

"A gutten yomtov to all, and to all a good night."

"Mezuzah!"

Opening his front door, the Rabbi found himself face to face with the local priest. "Rabbi, may I have a few words with you?" asked the priest.

"Of course, Father," replied the Rabbi somewhat nervously.

"Rabbi," began the priest, "It must be evident to you that in this town we are plagued by thieves.
Scarcely a day passes without one of my flock
coming to me bemoaning the fact that his house has been broken into.. On the other hand, I have noticed that thieves do not bother you Jews nearly as much."

"Father, you are correct."

"Yes, but why is that?" inquired the priest.

"Look at this little box here on the side of my door post," said the Rabbi. "It's called a mezuzah. We Jews believe that when we put a mezuzah on the entrances to our houses, the Holy One, may His Name be blessed, protects both us and our property."

"In that case", replied the priest, "I must have one!"

Not wishing to be the cause of an incipient pogrom, the Rabbi reluctantly handed over a mezuzah to the priest.

Some two weeks later the Rabbi was awakened by the sound of someone pounding violently on his door. Dressing himself hastily, he made his way down the stairs. "Who's there?" the Rabbi asked tremulously.

"Open the door! Open the door!" screamed a voice on the other side. Leaving the door on the chain, the

Rabbi cracked the door wide enough to see the priest standing in front of him, his eyes wild with great distraught.

"What happened?" asked the terrified Rabbi. "Were you not protected from robbers?"

"I was! But these people were worse than robbers!"
screamed the priest.

"Who?" asked the rabbi.

"Fund-raisers!!!"

The genie

Sadie is walking along the beach one day finds a bottle.

She rubs it and, sure enough, out popped a genie.

"I will grant you three wishes," said the genie. "But there is a catch."

"What catch?" Sadie asked.

The genie replied, "Every time you make a wish, your husband Maurice will receive double the wish you were granted."

"Well, I can live with that! No problem!" replied the elated Sadie.

"What is your first wish?" asked the genie.

"Well, I've always wanted a Mercedes Benz!" POOF! A Mercedes Benz appeared in front of the woman. "Don't forget, now your husband Maurice has TWO Mercedes Benz," said the genie.

"Well, that's okay, as long as I've got my Mercedes," replied the woman.

"Next wish?" "I'd love a million bucks," replied the woman.

POOF! One million bucks appeared at her feet.

"Don't forget, now your husband Maurice has TWO million bucks," said the genie.

"Well, that's okay, as long as I've got my million," replied the woman.

"What is your third and final wish?"

The woman thought long and hard, and finally said, "Well, you know, I've always wanted to donate one of my kidneys!"

Three wishes

A Rabbi, a cantor, and a synagogue president were driving to a seminar when they were kidnapped. The hijackers asked the three of them to hand over all of their money and jewelry. When they replied that they hadn't any, the hijackers told them that immediately after their last wishes were fulfilled, they would be killed.

"My last wish," began the Rabbi, is to give a fascinating, complicated, long sermon that I have always wanted to but never been allowed to give."

"We will grant your wish," the hijackers replied.

"My last wish," said the cantor, "is to sing a beautiful, Yemenite style song, one of my own compositions lasting two hours. I have never been allowed to sing it."

"We'll let you sing it," replied the hijackers.

"What is your last wish," the hijackers asked the shul president.

"Please, please shoot me now."

The visit

Becky's grandson and his wife are coming to visit her for the first time. So she is giving him the directions to her flat.

"You come to the front door of the Golders Green block of flats. I am in flat number 32 on the 14th floor. At the front door, you'll see a big panel of buttons. With your elbow push button 32. I will buzz you in. Come inside, the lift is on the right. Get in, and with your elbow hit 14. When you get out, I am on the left. With your elbow, hit my doorbell".

"Grandma, that sounds easy, but why am I hitting all these buttons with my elbow"?

"You're coming empty handed"?
