

FREE HARDCORE CORNOGRAPHY

Posted by peloni almoni - 12 Aug 2015 03:54

cornography n, [kor-nog-ruh-fee] - an intense display of corny or clever jokes, commonly used in various kinds of recovery side effects of viewing cornographic images will include laughter, rolling of the eyes, the occasional snort, and general irritation. extreme cases were known to include diarrhea, coughing, vomiting, and well...

[spoiler]/[spoiler]

if you experience any symptoms for more than 4 hours, you're welcome.

HISTORY OF CORNOGRAPHY - i am a firm believer in this. and i am sick and tired of posting on other people's forsaken "just having fun" threads that cordnoy keeps reviving from the dead. i am getting increasingly depressed by posting on the depressed person's chill spot, and i feel like i already ate and digested all the "chulint" i could handle. hell, i even made an ??? ???

sooooo, i am starting my own blog, that will, at least for some time, be updated and active, but hopefully be interactive. i encourage everyone to PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE help, as humor therapy should be a group effort. you all have talent - I'VE SEEN IT.

~~cordnoy~~ cordnoy is so good at it, that if this were a corny army, i would appoint him ...

Warning: Spoiler!

rabbosai, the indians called corn "maize". they must have thought corny jokes were just "amazing". but my motto for this blog is - NO JOKE IS TOO STUPID. you have my word that i will at least try to laugh at every attempt at humor that anyone makes here. feel good that you may be giving me or someone else chizuk - or at least you will be annoying "the urge" right out of them.

so friends. romans, countrymen, give me your EARS of corn...

BRING OUT THE POPCORN, LET THE SHOW BEGIN...

[zemmy, if you're reading this, let it never be said that i do not take my ????? seriously. ?' ??

Hi everyone. I'm no stranger to the GYE website. I was a lurker on the old site and here I am back because as much as I don't want to admit it I think I do need help.

I didn't think writing my first post would be this daunting but actually writing it out and admitting it "out loud" is harder than I thought.

So I'm married in my mid 30's with children B"H. I've had this struggle as far back as I can remember. I discovered masturbation at a very young age before I even knew it was wrong and it continued throughout my teenage years. I was fighting then as I am now with little success. I got married and like everyone thought things would change but they didn't.

I'm getting so tired of this cycle. How long can a person keep trying and failing? Sometimes I just want to admit defeat and just not be bothered with this struggle but I know its not the way to go.

I've been clean since 2 days before Y"K and I hope it will last...

It was the dawn of the internet and there was so much shmutz available. Filters were not even a thought at the time. Its been a constant struggle ever since.

All bolded words are banned on this site! Guard, please....

Forget about the past; do not be concerned with the future.

Focus on the present.

God will help you now!

and by the way, many people on this site have been 'shmutzing' for many more years than you, and they have recovered or are on the road to recovery, so welcome aboard.

b'hatzlachah

Cord, I bolded your bold statement - couldn't resist

!!IF WE CAN'T LEARN HEILIGE TORAH ON THE SUBWAY, WE CAN STILL DANCE!

[where's the dancing emoji??]

Here's a related story

A false accusation was leveled against Reb Meilech of Lizhensk and his equally famous brother, Reb Zushe of Anipoli, and they were promptly arrested. They found themselves in a dark filthy prison cell, together with common criminals. Came time to daven and Reb Zusha noticed his brother weeping. "Why are you upset?" asked Reb Zusha. Reb Meilech pointed to the bucket of waste in the middle of the room, which served as a toilet.

"It's assur to daven next to that pail and its repulsive odor. Never have I missed any tefillah in my entire life...not now..."

"That's no reason to be upset", insisted Reb Zusha. "The same G-d who commanded us to daven each morning also commanded us to abstain from davening under such circumstances. In a situation like this, we fulfil His will by not davening!"

Reb Zusha's words raised the spirits of Reb Elimelech. Together they started dancing, celebrating the opportunity to enjoy an intimate, albeit different, relationship with G-d. Round the pail they danced away and gradually all the inmates got carried away and were swept away too in ecstatic dancing together with the tzaddikim.

The prison warden heard the commotion and furiously demanded "Why are you all so happy?" The prisoners simply pointed to the bucket in the center of the cell. "The two Jews are happy about the pail.” “I will teach them a lesson,” shouted the angry warden as he took the pail and threw it out of the cell.

The two brothers turned to each other, “now, we can start davening...!”

KOD!

Yeah dude

After delving into the deep and hidden sources, for 71 hours with neither food, nor drink nor sleep, I will share with you my findings on the deep hidden mystical meanings of the above statement.

The skeleton represents our inner core, what is left in us after all of the outer layers are peeled away. "Walking into a bar" is a well known phrase in the esoteric sources as referring to a 'yerida' - a fall. When our skeleton walks into a bar it means that deep down in our inner core we had a fall.

Filled with disgust and a sense of wrongful longing (and more disgust for that longing), we ask for a mop and a beer. The mop is representing teshuva - cleaning up our mess. but when we ask for the beer together with the mop, we are showing that our teshuva is not sincere. We still want our forbidden fruit - as represented by the beer. So long as we are asking for the beer together with the mop, we are fooling ourselves in thinking that our 'teshuva' is any more effective then mopping the floor with beer.

Thanks dude. Truly an amazing post you wrote. :-)
