Embarrassing things we all do and think
Posted by Grant400 - 07 Aug 2020 06:17

I realized that most of the embarrassing things we do, we all do. I figured it would be funny if I listed some and any of you can share yours and we can all get a good laugh realizing we all do the same stuff:

1) "Klapping" selach on shabbos by mistake and immediately opening our hand and scratching our chest and arm for a really long time, maybe even sliding to other places like "oh! This itch wont let up!" Same with kissing our tefillin during krias shema by maariv.

2) When I daven for the amud I always check my phone or listen to the guy next to me to make sure I'm saying the right "yom" before blurting out the ending, even though I already know what day it is.

3) When we get caught staring through the car next to us's window we carefully continue to look in the same direction, just missing eye contact...like, "I wasnt looking at you pick your nose- I was intently staring directly at the spot of bird stuffs on the hood of your car"!

Who else?

Who else made a bracha by urchatz? (Especially after preaching to my son to NOT make one)

I love your posts on this thread, tzitzis dude. I have made a bracha by urchatz before, but I didn't this year. What I did--embarrassingly--do this morning is make a bracha on my tefillin shel yad even though my practice is to refrain from making brochos on my tefillin during Chol HaMoed.

And just for good measure let me add this one...

Who else has sleepily put on your tallis on Shabbos/Yontif morning and then instinctively taken your arm out of your sleeve as if you are readying yourself to put on your tefillin? How do you get out of that one? Scratch your arm incessantly to make it appear that that's why you uncovered your arm? I don't know. Painful...

The only solution is to take the other arm out, remove the jacket for at least 5-10 minutes and suffer the consequences.

I know it sounds rough, but what are your options, to bear the ?????

Often, when davening on autopilot (and there's a glitch in the system), when I reach ??????, I find myself taking three steps back and go, "Oops, oh well, I guess it was bashert."

That's when I do an ultra-casual prance out of the room.

Often when saying Ashrai I find myself veering into Asher Yatzar. I haven't figured out yet which words it is that send me in that direction.

I was chazzan for maariv and after the first kaddish, I took 3 steps back instead of saying Barchu!

Based on the responses, we will be able to deduce who's in the know...
