

Embarrassing things we all do and think

Posted by Grant400 - 07 Aug 2020 06:17

I realized that most of the embarrassing things we do, we all do. I figured it would be funny if I listed some and any of you can share yours and we can all get a good laugh realizing we all do the same stuff:

1) "Klapping" selach on shabbos by mistake and immediately opening our hand and scratching our chest and arm for a really long time, maybe even sliding to other places like "oh! This itch wont let up!" Same with kissing our tefillin during krias shema by maariv.

2) When I daven for the amud I always check my phone or listen to the guy next to me to make sure I'm saying the right "yom" before blurting out the ending, even though I already know what day it is.

3) When we get caught staring through the car next to us's window we carefully continue to look in the same direction, just missing eye contact...like, "I wasnt looking at you pick your nose- I was intently staring directly at the spot of bird stuffs on the hood of your car"!

Put on our tallis and start davening Shacharis without tefilin.

That reminds me of one that I do on occasion. If I am a bit spaced out on Shabbos morning, I will put my tallis on, move the tallis to one shoulder, take my suit jacket off of my tefillin arm, and then realize...

Walk to shul when I first got married and realize that I forgot my Tallis at my in-laws' house and go back to get it or it's too far to go back in time so I had to wear one of the Shul's old ratty ones.

I recently pranced into shacharis wearing my tefillin but no talis

'twas mortifying (B"H been married for more than a decade...)

I said Modim 4 times by Shachris today.

I guess I wasn't grateful enough...

The fourth time, I was grateful that at least I didn't have to say the entire Shemona Esrei four times!

Warning: Spoiler!

This isn't really embarrassing but who else always finds a hangnail like right after shabbos/yom tov starts and then it pesters you for the rest of the day?

Just me?

Doing the "rockstar hand symbol" (-with the index, thumb and pinky fingers up, and the middle and ring fingers down) to ensure that the tefillin shel rosh is straight, confidentially nodding and moving on with davening... and then looking at a mirror a few minutes later and seeing that it's totally off-center
