

The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

Posted by youknowwho - 08 Mar 2024 15:01

Speaking to a few friends offline gave birth to this idea, it seems to be an urgent and immediate necessity.

Welcome to...The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

This thread is a place where one can feel free to rant, vent and gripe.

It is a safe haven for negativity, sourness and blahness.

It is a place where one can be sure to find a healthy dose of demotivating advice. It is a place where any kind of positivity is strictly forbidden.

It is a place where you can vent about what a rotten day you're having and not worry that people will then reach out with concerned pm's/texts...cuz nobody really cares. And that's perfectly fine, why should anybody care?

Please Remember:

-No profanity (Sadly)

-No personal insults (Sadly)

- Absolutely no: Nice, positive, warm, loving, optimistic, motivational, supportive or inspiring posts. (Not sadly)

Enter at your own risk!

Waited outside for my wife to shop for 3 hours. I thought it was going to be 20 minutes I'm annoyed and she's not happy because I'm annoyed. So we're both upset. Meanwhile we found parking around the corner so I didn't even have to come.

Wise of you to air this on The Grouchery where nobody cares. Or you would've gotten a poke from my Smeltings Stick.

Be mindful and honest with your feelings. You got a good start by getting the grouching out beforehand, so now that that's out of the way, you can be the best Yeshayahu 41:6 anyone can ask for!

What are you talking about???? Without (due?) respect, I feel bad for your wife, and other females you dealt with

To anyone else: no, if she is not feeling well, don't pressure her to go...

Physical activity and exercise can be very beneficial in easing anxiety, stress and depression, which scientists tell us is often produced by an imbalance of neurotransmitters in the brain. Exercise not only impacts endorphins (our feel-good hormones), but it also increases levels of serotonin and dopamine, creating more balance. This produces the famous "runner's high," decreases anxiety, and provides an overall feeling of calmness.

Why do clothing stores sell 1500 different dresses but only have one dressing room??

I'm looking to partner with someone to open a store that will have a dressing room for each size the store will sell? Or a Dressing Room To Go business?

PM for serious inquiries only.
