

The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

Posted by youknowwho - 08 Mar 2024 15:01

Speaking to a few friends offline gave birth to this idea, it seems to be an urgent and immediate necessity.

Welcome to...The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

This thread is a place where one can feel free to rant, vent and gripe.

It is a safe haven for negativity, sourness and blahness.

It is a place where one can be sure to find a healthy dose of demotivating advice. It is a place where any kind of positivity is strictly forbidden.

It is a place where you can vent about what a rotten day you're having and not worry that people will then reach out with concerned pm's/texts...cuz nobody really cares. And that's perfectly fine, why should anybody care?

Please Remember:

-No profanity (Sadly)

-No personal insults (Sadly)

- Absolutely no: Nice, positive, warm, loving, optimistic, motivational, supportive or inspiring posts. (Not sadly)

Enter at your own risk!

Pretty sharp!

Actually, I'm so sorry to hear how sad your day was. I didn't understand what you meant about leaving the crackers or herring in the car. You mean you forgot to bring the herring?

I hate when that happens. Sorry, words fail me here.

I feel I really get you on this.

The herring stayed in the fridge at home, all lonely, while my crackers were keeping me company.

I won't say at least you will have a chance to enjoy the herring another time, you did not leave then in the car and they got rotten.

But I suppose you finished then by the end of Shabbos. Ahhh, yummy!

But it is sad because now they are gone! Just like all transient pleasures, as we consume them, it is bittersweet for us, because they are dissipating and then gone.

The opposite of real pleasure, from doing Mitzvos and learning Torah!!

Ftr, I heard this thought in the name of the Magid of Dubno...

After Shabbos my wife calls her mother. "Shabbos was great. BH I had a nap."

I mean, yeah, Hashem is always watching our kids . . . but I was there too.

If you're looking for me, I'll be in the refrigerator

Ever since I was old enough to understand the lyrics, I felt shortchanged and misunderstood by the good people of Anshei Kartoffel.

Every Shabbos there's a kiddush in shul, with cake and a glazele schnapps.

A shtikele herring for the older folks while the kids get lollipops.

Okay, firstly, this sounds like a cheap kiddush, nothing to brag about in a song. And secondly, I appreciated herring while my peers were still seduced by a lollipop.

I understand I'm not a kid anymore, but I doubt the older folk would count me as one of their own yet. That only happens when enough of them die, and we become the majority. So, where does that leave me? Having cake with a glazele schnapps? I can imagine what type of schnapps they offer there. Probably "When Old Williamsburg Was Young".

Naturally, I started my own kiddush club, and now I get nasty glares from the older folk while I valiantly chase away the kids (with their lollipops), keeping them from plundering my festivity.

I feel as out of place as Chanania Yom Tov Lipa Katzenellenbogenstein.

My wife was sitting next to me and picked up my phone and was idly scrolling through (yeah, idk why either). She sees my call history and starts laughing, "who are all these guys with the weird

I previously told her I was on GYE to mentor people, so mumbled that they were guys who were names? speaking to me for help.

Meanwhile I was waiting to see if she opened the google voice app (where I do all my gye texting). If I saw she was going for that my plan was to disembowel myself on the couch as a distraction.

names"?
First of all, ew no way.

Second of all, what do I care what it does to my couch once I'm disemboweled.

As the resident Nudnik, can I ask what tool/technique you were planning on using for the disembowlement?

What's the shaila? Obviously I would use my wakizashi for seppuku.

My ethnicity is Jewish. I would use my wifes sheitel pin.

I guess we can compare results later
