Speaking to a few friends offline gave birth to this idea, it seems to be an urgent and immediate necessity.

Welcome to...The Grouchery: Haven for the Grumpily Disgruntled

This thread is a place where one can feel free to rant, vent and gripe.

It is a safe haven for negativity, sourness and blahness.

It is a place where one can be sure to find a healthy dose of demotivating advice. It is a place where any kind of positivity is strictly forbidden.

It is a place where you can vent about what a rotten day you're having and not worry that people will then reach out with concerned pm's/texts...cuz nobody really cares. And that's perfectly fine, why should anybody care?

Please Remember:

-No profanity (Sadly)

-No personal insults (Sadly)

- Absolutely no: Nice, positive, warm, loving, optimistic, motivational, supportive or inspiring posts. (Not sadly)

Enter at your own risk!

The Tzitzis Dude is gonna whip you into shape. He does not tolerate negativity about the gifts of the Old City, rain, and a little bit of cold.

He'll give you what to grump about. Cos you asked for it

Hmm, where to start? Where to begin?

Cold? in Yerushalayim? Buddy, I don't know where you're from, but the Holy City has nothing on the cold of North America. Also, you're in the Holy City.

Rain? You guys have been praying for the stuff, and now you grouch about it? Get ahold of thyself!!

The list goes on, but it's Monday, and that grouches for itself.

TD out.

Warning: Spoiler!

So, Thanksgiving day. Cold. Rainy. The definition of dreary.

I was invited to a Thanksgiving dinner but then disinvited coz my kids would make too much noise!

Is that a good grouch?

Well, I probaly would have grouched about being invited in the first place.

All about perspective baby

Was there ever a thread where the posts so clearly match the title?

Thanksgiving in the Holy Land was quite good weather, the best of the whole week.

Sorry if this doesn't belong here but it's a makeup for my last grouch:

Its been a real ichy day in Yerushalayim today. Cold and rainy.
