“Numbing the pain for a while will make it worse when you finally feel it.”

“We can’t choose our fate, but we can choose others. Be careful in knowing that.”

“It is our choices, Harry, that show what we truly are, far more than our abilities.”

“Youth cannot know how age thinks and feels, but old men are guilty if they forget what it was to be young.”

“We must try not to sink beneath our anguish, Harry, but battle on.”

“It takes a great deal of bravery to stand up to our enemies, but just as much to stand up to our friends.”

“It does not do well to dwell on dreams and forget to live.”

“But you know, happiness can be found even in the darkest of times, if one only remembers to turn on the light.”

“It matters not what someone is born, but what they grow to be.”

“Dark and difficult times lie ahead. Soon we must all face the choice between what is right and what is easy.”

“The consequences of our actions are always so complicated, so diverse, that predicting the future is a very difficult business indeed.”

“It is important to fight and fight again, and keep fighting, for only then can evil be kept at bay though never quite eradicated.”

“Curiosity is not a sin.... But we should exercise caution with our curiosity... yes, indeed.”

“I sometimes find, and I am sure you know the feeling, that I simply have too many thoughts and memories crammed into my mind.”

“They were great men, with huge flaws, and you know what—those flaws almost made them greater.”

And, of course, the most inspirational of them all:

“One can never have enough socks.”

I apologize if this is paraphrased.

“Well, of course this is in your head. But why should that make it any less real?”

All this Dumbledore stuff has got me feeling left out! Just sharing some of my own evil thoughts:

"There Is No Good And Evil. There Is Only Power And Those Too Weak To Seek It."

Dumbledore is a modernisha wise man. How bout a quote from the OG fantasy wise wizard.

"All we have to decide is what to do with the time that is given us."

--Gandalf

I'm not sure if I appreciate being called "modernish ", but I agree that Gandalf is the original Geonishe Wizard.

"Go back to the shadow. You SHALL NOT PASS!!!"

(p.s. I'm well aware that in the book, he says "You cannot pass", but limaaseh I think the way it came out in the movie is better.)

Do not take me as a conjuror of cheap tricks..

Just for @youknowwho:

This speaks to so much of how we got here and our relationship with porn in particular, and the Yezer Horah in general:

"Your devotion is nothing more than cowardice. You would not be here if you had anywhere else to go." — Voldemort

"But I was willing to embrace mortal life again, before chasing immortality." -Lord Voldemort (Recovery)

'We both know that there are other ways of destroying a man, Tom,' Dumbledore said calmly, continuing to walk towards Voldemort as though he had not a fear in the world, as though nothing had happened to interrupt his stroll up the hall. "Merely taking your life would not satisfy me, I admit —'

'There is nothing worse than death, Dumbledore!' snarled Voldemort.

'You are quite wrong,' said Dumbledore, still closing in upon Voldemort and speaking as lightly as though they were discussing the matter over drinks. 'Indeed, your failure to understand that there are things much worse than death has always been your greatest weakness.'

Better lock my doors and windows tonight, though I doubt that will help much...

I'd say that in our world, the realization that the fear of hell, sin , death, and the avenging, spiteful god we think awaits us distracts us from the idea that there is something worse than the next step into porn's hell and loneliness: The prospect of never fulfilling the potential of healing and the actual living and growth of life. How much more we could do and be is concealed from us by the haze of pain and lack of connection we don't even know we are feeling.
