So sayeth the Chef: Go unto BOT and call upon the Meat, the Bones, the Kishka and the Paprikash.

Raise them up, as a beacon on the hills and a banner upon the high-places.

Let those who seek come and be satiated, those who quiver and tremble take heart.

For as my word shall descend onto the earth, so shall the fields and hills of Israel blossom forth with fresh and pure cholent.

(Ingredients ch.5,ver.9)

Zemmys the best cholevangelist I ever heard... Errrr read.

And I as a son of Israel take up my plate and fork in my hands, wandering the hills if judea (and the rockies and poconos) in search of festive meat to slaughter for our cholent offering.

I shall with the sweat of my brow grow the beans and barley fruit of my own handiwork and raise them up in joy and gladness and thanks to the creator. The first bite shall be consecrated with the oil that forms on the top of the cholent, and we shall separate that oil on a weekday and not on the sabbath to avoid the prohibition of borer. And then when we have raised and consecrated that first bite we shall write the ingresients down and paste it to the doorways of our fridge so that the wonder and knowledge of kedushas cholent shall be as a sign to us everytime we grab a bite to eat.

Lest he who hath less cholent, or no cholent (yikes) be distraught, so shall the abishter command that each householdd tithe 2.3percent of their cholent (eggs not included) for a communla offering. This offering to be eaten by the poor and destitute shall be as a sign that cholent of klal yisroel can get us through anything we can imagine.

And the evil egyptian taskmasters will beg us to leave and tke their cholent as a gift noting that our cholent was alwayys better anyways but that they were so scared silly by the 10 plagues that theu just want us out and want us to take their cholent so we shall not bear a grudge against them.

so it shall be written.... So it shall be done.

The prophet Cholentmeister 51:36

BOT, you are by far a more seasoned bible-thumping Cholevangelist and to paraphrase George W. Bush, "Mission Accomplished", OMG you made me LOL and ROFL oyur lucky... FEMA called me up and asked if they could use my cholent to fix up the damages as it makes a great cement.
