Ok just put my self on the WOH. This morning was day 4. Today is the hardest so far. Yesterday I had to be in Manhattan, not so kosher there. Not feeling well today and its one hell of a day (not in a good way). I have this urge just a tremendous urge to fall. lol when I say it like that it is funny. Who wants to throw themselves off a precipice? Looking at the emails for chizuk and also reaching out on GYE.
