what are you doing for recovery besides updating the tzibbur on your daily/hourly/minutely travel on the path of greatness.

Good question. I've added significant structure to my day both in ruchnius and gashmius

You have also grabbed hold of a tool for being open and honest and are using it well. You are a changing person indeed! You are a good example to all of us, too. You prove that opening up and being honest will not kill us. And you are cheering up and supporting many other struggling guys here, over and over in your non-ego, humorous way. You are a gem...as far as I am concerned.

Don't stop, chaver. One day at a time is good enough.

Day 8 BH

Daf Yomi gave me an extra boost today, not sure why. I just felt really really m'chuzak after learning.

methinks that the Noam Elimelech writes in the Tzetil Katan;

"Vi Hamaor sheba Yachzirenu limutav" and the light which is in it (the torah) will return you to good.

or in Tanya Jargon;

by learning Hashems torah you are enrobing your thoughts with his

and it'e like you are hugging the king.

Good luck Eli

(reminds me of a song;

Eli Eli He sells socks,

a penny for a pair and a dollar a box,

the longer you wear them,
the shorter they get,
and ya put them in the water and they don't get wet.

Boom Boom.

Aint it great to be Crazy?

Boom Boom.

Aint it great to be nut like us?

Giddy and foolish all day long.

Boom Boom.

Aint it great to be Crazy?

It sucks being crazy, actually.

But hey, why shouldn't learning geshmak bring us to mechuzak-ness? It's wonderful!
